OUR STORY

A college education is an opportunity that outweighs the success found in athletic competition. In working with many former college and professional athletes, we have identified a void in the college recruiting process that jeopardizes the future of high school student athletes and their families. Education Protector is a unique program specifically designed for high-school student athletes who have received a Verbal Offer for an athletic scholarship or grant. The program protects the value of an athletic scholarship or grant by providing tuition reimbursement coverage for the window of time between the policy effective date and the sooner of the Letter of Intent and the NLI Final Signing Date.
